MIGUEL SCHOOL IN DOUBLE WIN

Grove Boy At Camp Pendleton

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (FHTNC)—Marine Pvt. Daniel N. Risner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Risner of 2315 Golden ave., Lemon Grove is scheduled to complete four weeks of individual combat training Nov. 17, at the Second Infantry Training Regiment, Camp Pendleton.

Child's Wooden Block Makes Floor Furnace Smoky

The residents of 7536 San Miguel couldn't figure out why smoke was coming from their floor furnace on Nov. 17. Firemen whom they summoned at 4:35 p.m. discovered that a child's wooden block had fallen down into the furnace. Firemen extracted same.

Firemen extinguished a trash fire on the same day at 8:43 p.m. at 3663 Costa Bella. No damage was reported.

A $12 fire occurred at 1604 La Corta st. on Nov. 21 at noon when a clothes hamper that had been pushed against an electric wall heater caught fire. Firemen used a special fan unit to expel smoke from the house.

Firemen gave resuscitator treatment on Nov. 19 at 2:25 p.m. to Clay Summerville, who had been brought to the station.

THE GREATEST — Members of the smart playing, smart marching Mt. Miguel High School Band go impressively past the camera at Arcadia last Saturday. They won sweepstakes over some 45 bands which entered the competition. Miguel's Cape and Cadence Corps took sweepstakes in their division; it was the first such award to a drill team.

Band, Cape And Cadence Corps Win Arcadia Sweepstakes

The Mt. Miguel High School band took sweepstakes at the Arcadia Band Review on Saturday, Nov. 18. About 45 bands from Southern California were entered in the competition.

The Miguel Cadence Corps also took sweepstakes in its division.

The band brought home a beautiful gleaming trophy and a check for $250.

The 80 girls in the Cape and Cadence Corps were thrilled at their win because never before had a sweepstakes trophy been awarded to a drill team. In addition to their beautiful gleaming trophy, they brought home to their alma mater a check for $100.

Of a possible 1,000 points, the Miguel Specialties earned 967. Next best was Montebello with 933 points.

Trademark of the Miguel school, a spokesman there said, is a double M formation. The Specialties rehearsed the formation constantly prior to their Arcadia victory.

The double accomplishment by Miguel students, under the direction of Larry Christianson, a graduate of San Diego State College brings real distinction to the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area. Miguel's band won the same event two years ago and won over all entries in the Maytime Band Review last spring at National City.

Miguel lost first place by 3/10th of a point two weeks ago at the Autumn Band Review, they won at Arcadia by the same pointage.

Christianson said: "The biggest tribute to the students in the band was the fact that they could come up to this level even with the split with Monte Vista High School in student population.

"That is what made Saturday's win so particularly gratifying."

The 91 members of the band and members of the Specialties have appeared in seven important events this fall. They include the Lemon Grove Business Day Parade, Lemon Grove Kids Day Parade, Spring Valley Parade, Heartland Teen Parade, Mother Goose Parade, Autumn Band Review and Autumn Band and Jamboree.

Band president Tom Lange said following the overwhelming win at Arcadia, Cal.: "This is something we've been striving for all year. We have a deep feeling of accomplishment and the feeling that our hard work wasn't in vain. We'll be ready to win next year."

Mrs. Agnes King, instructor of the Miguel Specialties, said "I am very proud to be associated with this fine group. Each girl performed at her very best Saturday and the group presentation was spectacular. No other organization marched in other than traditional formations.

Drum major for the band is Lavonne Foster.

Pilgrims Suffer Setback In School's Thanksgiving Caper

Thieves broke into the fifth grade room of the Casa de Oro Elementary school last week and purloined two valuable antique muskets, which have been in the family of Mrs. R. Edward Prall of La Mesa for over a hundred years. Mrs. Prall's daughter Marilyn is a fifth grade pupil.

The guns had been loaned to the school for use in a Thanksgiving Day school play given Monday morning and were to be returned Monday afternoon. Mrs. Virginia Zysk, fifth grade teacher, called the sheriff's department and said that when she came to school Monday she found a window broken, the library ransacked and the guns gone. Nothing else in the room had been disturbed, she said.

Along with the guns went the powder horn with its lid hung by a rawhide thong. One of the guns, according to Mrs. Prall, had the inscription Chas. A. Cornwell and date 1846. He had been her great-great-grandfather. The family prized the guns highly and she says no money could have bought them.

House Undraping Complaint Made After S.V. Incident

DRAPES WORTH $1,000 TAKEN

A thousand dollars worth of draperies were taken from an unoccupied house at 10016 Diversion Drive, Spring Valley, last week, according to a report to the sheriff's department by C. R. Redman of the Helix Vista Estates.

Redman of 10058 Del Rio rd., S.V. told the sheriffs deputies that when he left the house on Tuesday it was locked by him. All the doors to the inside of the house were locked by him, and the drapes were all in place. When he returned to the house Saturday morning he found the door between the kitchen and garage unlocked, but closed. The rear kitchen door was unlocked and open. All the drapes in the entire house had been removed and carried away. The rods were left on the wall.

'Open House' Planned By Leitch Firm

New, larger offices are being opened in Lemon Grove by Art Leitch, realtor, according to M. L. "Milt" Austin, local manager of the firm.

The office is being moved from 3311 Imperial ave. to 7303 Broadway and an "Open House" will be held Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Leitch firm moved into Lemon Grove four and a half years ago and business grew until eight persons were employed there. At the new office personnel will be increased to twelve to handle a wider variety of properties including commercial, industrial and acreage.

The new building has been remodeled inside and out. Austin said the improvement is being used to induce other property owners on west Broadway to likewise beautify their premises.

Austin, who lives at 8828 Country Club pl., Spring Valley, has been manager with Leitch for ten years.

Grossmont District OKs Honor Program

Unanimous approval was voted for a district-wide honors program by the Grossmont Union High School District board of trustees after hearing Dr. Leon Lessinger present a detailed statement of principles which would be followed in establishing such a program for more able students.

Approval was given only after assurance that the gearing of the educational program to the capabilities of these gifted and talented students would not interfere with a similar emphasis upon an improved program for the average and remedial students. Administrators expressed the belief that this emphasis upon the achievement in line with ability would tend to up-grade achievement by students of all levels of ability.

AREA REAL ESTATE SALES REPORTED

EMERGENCY TREATMENT GIVEN BABY WHO FELL

The high winds of last week were primarily responsible for a 21-month-old baby, Lisa Marie Del Nero, to now be living on borrowed time.

The wind blew down the fence surrounding the swimming pool at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arthur Del Nero, 3820 Pinto Place, Spring Valley. The baby was playing in the patio with her 3½-year-old brother, Scott, and managed to get through the damaged fence, crawl out on the diving board and then took a nose dive into the empty pool at the deep end. She came up with a nose bleed and an indignant yell. Little Scott fled for mother, who told the sheriff's deputy she wasn't gone more than three minutes.

Mrs. Del Nero said the baby was all right for about a half hour and then became unconscious. Two specialists and the family physician were called to Grossmont Hospital to treat the child and were afraid she was fatally injured. One physician suggested giving treatment used on an illness causing unconsciousness from another cause. It worked!

Today baby Lisa is home with mother doing nicely and happy and cheerful, she says.

GIVING THANKS — The spirit of Thanksgiving is portrayed in this picture of a family going to church . . . to give thanks. At a time when the fate of the entire world hangs in Precarious balance, more people turn to churchgoing to help ease the tensions they feel as world dictators badger those who seek the free and democratic way of life. The freedom to worship, guaranteed under Article I, the Bill of Rights asserts that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion ,or prohibiting the free exercise thereof . . ." Suggesting the visit that hundreds of local citizens should be making to the church of their choice is this picture taken earlier this week in front of the St. John of the Cross Catholic church in Lemon Grove.

A Thanksgiving Proclamation

"In a world clouded with fear and uncertainty, I join with other Californians in a plea for a re-dedication to the principles of Thanksgiving Day as expressed by our Plymouth Colony forefathers 340 years ago.

"On that day, colonists and Indians joined in thanksgiving and celebration of God's gifts. There was an end to the fighting; there was peace and freedom and charity in the hearts of men.

"In recognition of those American ideals of thanksgiving on which this nation was founded, I, Edmund G. Brown, Governor of California, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 23, 1961, as THANKSGIVING DAY in California."

Road Users Should Pay Tax

There is a great disparity between the need for road improvements in the county and the funds for providing them.

Most narrow, winding roads are not the result of the county road department's disinterest. There simply isn't enough money available to build the roads to adequately serve the burgeoning population of the county areas.

County road money comes from a portion of the gasoline tax. None comes from "in lieu" taxes. "In lieu" taxes are the taxes we pay for the tags hooked onto the rear of our car when we buy it. We add to this annually when we renew our licenses.

Some months ago a committee was named by the county board of supervisors to study all possible means of raising funds to develop county roads and other road matters.

At one point, there was some sympathy for a road tax to be levied against real property. For many reasons, it is well that this philosophy passed although there was a semi-valid argument that better roads made for more valuable property. Thus the appreciation could be repaid in a comparatively small annual tax. The injustice here is that the property owner is not necessarily one who uses these roads the most. Commercial vehicles, probably, give local county as much of a beating as the same number of private cars.

Later, the opinion, less divided than the property tax consideration, was that the licensing fee ought to be raised to the point where this provided enough income whereby more roads might be built and existing roads improved. A logical argument here was that some motorists drove many thousands of miles and others drove only a few hundred each year. . .so the road fee would be disproportionate.

That led directly to a more reasonable approach. Perhaps it should have been the first one. By adding a cent or

THERE'S A CELEBRITY AMONG US

Cedric Jordan of Lemon Grove, a student at San Diego State College is a phenonomon we didn't know about until lately. He's starring in the SDSC production "Oedipus Rex" soon to begin.

But get a load of this. Jordan appeared in the motion pictures: "Splendor In The Grass," "Tiger Among Us" and "Married Too Young" in addition to nationally-seen television productions.

SORRY, BUT HERE THEY ARE AGAIN

The tumbleweed problem is here to stay. Since I've been writing about tumbleweeds, I have become tumbleweed conscious. Wherever I drive I watch for tumbleweeds. I've seen tumbleweeds which must be almost five feet in diameter.

I feel very significant these days when I'm in a line of traffic that is slowed or stopped because tumbling tumbleweeds are in the way. Haven't I denounced them thoroughly and wasn't I right?

Tumbleweeds are here to stay because they're everywhere. But maybe we haven't quite lost the flavor of the Old West while we can still see tumbleweeds blown across a modern freeway or right past a big new building.

Tumbleweeds are durable. The unlucky driver who doesn't miss a tumbling tumbleweed can look in his rear view mirror and see a moving thing that was almost unaltered by his car. He can see a tumbling weed that will move many miles more.

Attempt To Form Local Colt League Gets 'Thumbs Down'

A request by a local group interested in forming a Colt League (baseball) in the Spring Valley, Lemon Grove and Encanto-Skyline areas was given the "thumbs down" at a meeting Nov. 13 by the La Mesa Colt League executive board. Heading the La Mesa board was Howard Dorland, president and heading the local group, was committee chairman "Red" Keith, well known area Pony League coach and manager. Also present at the meeting was Ted Wilson, sectional director of San Diego County Colt League Assn.

The local committee requested that La Mesa relinquish the areas named, in order that the new Colt league could be formed. However, following the meeting, Keith told this paper that his committee was in the process of sending a letter to the Colt Regional Headquarters, requesting a franchise for a local Colt league. He said it is the opinion of a majority of parents in the area, with boys of Colt league age (15 and 16) that a Colt league in this area would be best for the community and for the boys involved. He said that as soon as a reply is received to the committee letter, a mass meeting date will be anncunced.

Anyone wanting to contact "Red" Keith regarding a Colt league, may phone him at HO 6-6169.

LM-SV School District Business Manager Resigns

FRED LANCE
15 years of service

Fred Lance, business manager of the La-Mesa Spring Valley School District at the Monday night meeting of the board of trustees, tendered his resignation from the District. It was accepted by a four-to-one vote. He has been with the District for the past 15 years. Reason for his resignation was given as "going into private business." He did not indicate what business he will be in. To date a successor has not been named, and a spokesman for the District said it may be a difficult task to get a successor.

In other business the board of trustees voted to hire an appraiser for the site of the proposed Conrad Drive Elementary School (near the S.V. Junior High School). The appraiser is Forrest Hawley.

Los Toros Footballers Tie With Vegas Players

The Lemon Grove - Spring Valley Los Toros' two teams split with two Las Vegas teams (The Donna Kutzen Youth Foundation's) Nov. 18 in the third annual Silver Bowl football games at Butcher Memorial Field. In the Junior (125 pounds) game, Los Toros got the jump on the Vegas eleven when it took the opening kickoff and marched 53 yards to score. Curt Taylor climaxed the drive by plunging over from three yards out.

Then early in the second quarter, Los Toros' Nick Piskor tackled DRYF quarterback Lee Bolden in the end zone for a safety. Late in the same period, the Los Toros team failed to let an 11-yard loss stop them as they went 42 yards to score after Antonio Lujan intercepted a DRYF pass. Lujan scored the TD on a 10-yard run. DRYF's two TD's came in the third quarter. Terry Rabb picked up a Los Toros fumble and raced 10 yards for the first score and a short pass resulted in the second.

Other outstanding plays were made by Bob Nunez and Randy Clark. Both teams were housed at the Nellis Air Force Base. Parents transported the teams in cars. Coach was 'Bill Stanley; assistant coach, Chuck Davidson; coach, Al Burk; assistant coach, Jim Banks, (Midgets); Frank Sexton, manager of the Midgets; Bob Creiger, reservations; Ken Hayes, manager of the Bantams. About 24 cars went to Las Vegas for the game.

FISHING FEE SET FOR LAKE MURRAY

The Helix Irrigation District's board of directors approved the fishing fee scheduled for Lake Murray during a recent board meeting. Fishing there begins Dec. 2 and ends sometime in June, 1962.

He will portray Tiresius, a blind prophet, in the story of Oedipus, the king who unknowingly killed his father and married his mother.

S.V. Company Specializing In Small Electrical Jobs

A Spring Valley two-man electrical team has begun a new type of service for the area. The new service consists of providing immediate, dependable electrical service for even very small electric jobs on a 24-hour, seven-day-a-week basis.

Fred Moser, owner of Spring Valley Electric and his associate, Andy Anderson are the team. Their panel truck is equipped with tools and parts to take care of any electrical need.

Moser said that many times people call electrical contractors when they have a small electrical repair job, and usually the contractors can't take care of it. It is the purpose of Spring Valley Electric, Moser said, to respond to small electrical needs too. Both Moser and Anderson are former electrical contractors. They also offer free consulting service.

Their phone is HO 6-7335.

COUNTY EDUCATORS RECEIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE TAPES

The San Diego County Department of Education has just released two American Heritage magnetic tapes to help teachers in their teaching of our heritage and values.

The tapes include fellow San Diegans' responses to two questions: "What in Our American Way of Life Appeals to You the Most?" and "Do You Feel There Are Threats to Our American Way of Life?" Some responses were made by young citizens at the local community halls; other responses were made by senior citizens in the quiet of their homes.

Spring Valley Couple Extending Very Helping Hands To Destitute People in Baja California

by Tommy Thomas

Helping others may be discouraging at times, but in the final analysis it is rewarding, could very well be the philosophy of Mr. and Mrs. (Irwin and Margaret) Ford of 10148 Madrid Way, Spring Valley.

Like Dr. Amorita Treganza and Art Berry of Lemon Grove they have been carrying on their own international goodwill operation in Baja California. They have helped people in the Tiajuana area, a group of 30 families living in near privation south of Ensenada, in a place called San Carlos Canyon, and people in other areas of Baja California.

On the fringe of Tiajuana they discovered 11 families living under a tree. That was when they were first stirred into action to do something to combat the poverty in some parts of the area. Their aid to the Mexican people has been extensive and has been given in many forms. By now their work has directly improved the lives of hundreds, and the Fords are known and beloved

SHE IS MINISTER

The Fords met and were married in Chicago in 1950. She was a widow and had been ordained a minister. Her birthplace was Mexico. Ford had worked in Mexico since 1934 and spoke the language fluently. Both were extremely interested in helping human beings less fortunate than themselves.

Soon after their marriage they headed for California both found a job at Convair and soon were settled in Spring Valley. Several months later Mrs. Ford was forced to give up her job at Convair, due to a heart condition.

The Fords' urge to help others led them to visit Baja California where they found living conditions of the poorer class of Mexicans at a low ebb. There was a shortage of food, clothing, medicine and spiritual guidance, Ford said. They found one teenage girl who had had leprosy since she was 10 years old (she died at the age of 19).

HELP POOR PEOPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Ford, in their spare time, worked for two years in Tijuana, helping with their own money and getting together as many donated items as possible. At that time there was little work for the poor people of the T.J. area. Many had migrated from the interior of Mexico, hoping that a large community would offer more employment. Their own home towns had job shortages.

A Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderson of Ocean Beach became interested in the Fords' Tijuana work and offered to help. Their project was to help one large family, and to this day they are continuing that project, Ford said.

After their two years in Tijuana, the Fords felt "the Lord directed us to a bigger program away from the city." They headed south, surveying many areaes between Tijuana and San Quintin ((about 300 miles south of San Diego). Finally, going a short way inland, south of Ensenada, they entered San Carlos Canyon. There they found nearly 30 families, about 300 people, living in a condition that laymen can hardly imagine. Most of the people were either living under trees or in caves. Many of the children were dying of malnutrition, typhoid (due to poor water), diphtheria and tuberculosis. The healthier youngsters (and a few men) were like wild animals; they ran and hid when Mr. and Mrs. Ford appeared.

MANY MOTHERS DIE

The Fords found there was no medical care for women in childbirth. No mid-wife was available, only women who were about the place would help in these emergencies. Many a mother had died from child-birth, the Fords learned. The same condition, only on an easier scale, exists there today due to doctors being a long way from the community and lack of money.

There was no school or church in San Carlos Canyon at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford said they found their work cut out for them and soon "pitched in." Several months later Ford found magnesium on the land and developed a mine, using his own money to buy equipment. The mine operated for over two years, giving employment to several Mexican families. From the rock they made lamps, bookends, paper weights novel dishes and other items.

FEWER PEOPLE DIE

The community where the Fords spend much of their spare time is known as "Chapingo." Their camp is called "Centro de Amparo" or in English, "Center of Refuge." About three years ago some people in Los Angeles learned of the Fords' work and offered to help. Since then interest in the community has been fired, Ford said. He said that now there is a school, but a teacher is needed, as the cost is about $100 a month for a teacher. There is a mission in the village and a few shacks have been built. But the most encouraging fact is that the mortality rate has dropped.

Non-denominational church services are held three or four times a week at the mission with two full-time ministers. Missionaries from all over the world visit the mission, and tell of the work in their various fields. Mexicans from other communities near Chapingo walk several miles to the services.

CHRISTIANITY TAUGHT

Mr. Ford said "Centro de Amparo" is now set up so that children can learn a trade and more important, the "Christian Way of Life." Mrs. Ford heads a program at Chapingo where the women learn to make baby clothes and quilts. She urges that women on "this side of the line" help out in a similar program, as the Chapingo women are in need of children's clothing.

Many items have been donated to the Fords' cause. For instance, in August of 1961 these items were recorded: 400 lbs. of suet; 750 lbs. of frozen food; 3 beds; 82 boxes of clothes; 80 pairs of shoes; 2 rugs; 2 bicycles; 30 lbs. of cooking fat; 3 cases of canned goods; one $26 food order; 10 baby blankets; 4 boxes of dishes; 2 boxes of cookware; 1 bolt of diaper flannel; 2 fur coats; 9 boxes of toys; 1 box of dolls; 3 boxes of miscellaneous 300 lbs. of paper and some used lumber. Other items were given by visitors to the community. A group calling itself "World Vision" contributed $880 for the purchase of the land where the mission stands.

MORE THINGS NEEDED

Although the program at Chapingo has progressed remarkably, Mr. Ford said, still needed are finances to buy building materials. These materials, along with Mexican labor may be obtained reasonably, Ford said. He said there is plenty of good water in the area but that a windmill is needed to bring the water to the surface.

Recently, however, the Fords report that they have had the use of a gasoline pump to bring water to the surface and after five hours of pumping filled one large water tank. Still they are in need of the windmill, which will be less costly to operate.

Persons of this area who wish to help in any way with the project in Chapingo, may contact Irwin Ford by phoning him at HO 9-4346; by stopping by his home at 10148 Madrid Way, Spring Valley; or by writing him at P.O. Box 9, Spring Valley, Calif.

HELPER OF THE POOR — Mr. Irwin Ford (second from right) of Spring Valley poses with Mexicans by a shelter made of logs and blankets which once served as a home near Tiajuana. Ford and his wife, Margaret, have won a permanent place in the hearts of many Baja Californians by helping do away with such inadequate living conditions. As the work of the Fords continues, increasing numbers of Mexicans are leading worthwhile lives.

Park Thanksgiving Program Includes Helix Highlanders

The Helix High School Highlander Choir will take part in the Community Thanksgiving Services to be presented in Balboa Park at the organ pavilion on Nov. 23 from 10-11 a.m.

Robert A. Rue is director of the group, and Karin Anderson and Susan Wylie are accompaniests.

This fine group of young people are "taking time out" of their own busy schedule to share with the community in this service of thanksgiving. Those who would impugn the patriotism and idealism of American youth might well study this particular incident in light of such criticism.

You are urged to join with your fellow-citizens in this brief hour of service, to give thanks for all that we have, to pray for the peace that we all want.

two to the gasoline tax, roads could be built with funds coming from the users' pockets in proportion to his use. Gasoline taxes are already high enough, but this approach seems the fairest.

An interesting lack of enthusiasm for road improvement funds from this source comes from gasoline distributors, it is said by a member of the study group. It would appear that better, wider roads would have the indorsement of gasoline distributors, but this isn't so. More fuel is used by keeping the roads winding with a great number of stop signs. Gasoline manufacturers admit that a high percentage of fuel is lost in stop-and-go driving.

For all the tax dollars the various agencies collect from autos and auto fuel, it seems strange that more dollars are needed for roads. Yet this is a sad fact of California life.

Our hope is that the money is derived from the road users on a per-mile basis. The only way to do this is to add to the gas tax.

What Happened To America? . . . Where Did It Go?

A good example of how the federal government can censor by taxation is an advertisement running in a current issue of NEWSWEEK.

The material is carried over the signature of Warner and Swasey of Cleveland, a fine firm making machinery, equipment and tools. Their Gradall construction machine is well known.

The Internal Revenue Service has given an opinion that articles such as these may not be charged to advertising. In corporate structures there is usually no accepted classification for advertising except as advertising and as such it is a tax deductible expense.

Not so says the IRS. It should come out of profits, if any, and should be taxed as such, causing the stockholders to suffer in just that amount.

This becomes an awkward thing to explain on a balance sheet if only because it is out of classification. The firm's officials therefore resist the urge to tell a story that may not be told in any other way. . .unless they are patriotic, brave, and willing to face a timorous board of directors who would rather be subjugated by government than to fight the bureaucrats.

We are pleased to reproduce the Warner & Swasey article here, which ran under the appropriate heading "WHAT HAPPENED TO AMERICA?. . .WHERE DID IT GO?"

Through two World Wars and a terrible depression, Americans fought and worked, with deep confidence in themselves and their country. Their work made the nation safe, made it grow.

Then something went wrong, in high places and low. It became the era of "something for nothing"; "what's in it for me." So now areas want "Federal funds" for luxuries they cannot afford—they want other citizens to pay their bills. . . . Unions demand higher wages without earning them, so of course prices go up and jobs disappear. . . . Government bureaus waste millions by carelessly paying higher prices than necessary. . . . Foreigners demand freedom but in the same breath demand doles. . . . Politicians outdo each other in promising gifts (of your money!) to lazy, shiftless pressure groups, in order to buy votes for themselves. . . . And the wicked waste of unearned billions to the wrong farmers and veterans speeds the ruin of your savings and your country.

There are no Federal funds, remember. There are only local funds, shrunk and weakened by traveling to Washington. Every time you demand and get "Federal" money, you are demanding and destroying another part of your own country. Doesn't that mean anything, any more?

Warner & Swasey

A Term Of Endearment

A respected newsman named Roy Copperud writes a column on proper use of the English language in one of the professional journals of the publishing trade.

In viewing fatuous use of certain words he came up with a column that might have been just as deliberately an editorial as it appears to be unintentional.

It isn't often we can offer a lesson in grammar and a meaningful editorial in the same small space, but Copperud accomplished it with this admonition:

"Dear, darling, honey, sweetheart" and the like, as habitually employed between husbands and wives, are god examples of words that have been squeezed dry of meaning. All of us have heard "dear" uttered in a tone that could only be described as a snarl. The effect would be laughable if any consciousness of the meaning remained. Used over and over as terms of address, endearments quickly lose all their warmth. It may be that no love is great enough to sustain the continuous use with any sincerity, of endearments as terms of address. Thus, when you come right down to it, the habit of using them in this way is stupid.

Couples who have genuine respect for the meanings of words are likely to address each other by their given names, except on occasions that call for something else. Given names are neutral to begin with, and it is easier to invest them with a snarl or a caress than it is to put reverse English on dear, etc., or even to put the juice back into them.

While we are on this subject, someone ought to do a survey on whether the practice of husbands and wives calling each other "Mama" and "Daddy" after the arrival of the first offspring is dying out, as it appears to be. By adopting the terms properly applicable to them by their children, parents are really sacrificing their adulthood, in a sense, and identifying themselves with their children. When a child hears his father calling his mother "Mama," he may get the idea they both have the same relation to her.

Trial Set For Man Charged In String Of Auto Accidents

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A trial date of Jan. 10 was set Friday in Superior Court for a Spring Valley truck driver who pleaded innocent to charges of felony hit-and-run and drunk driving in a series of collisions in Chula Vista and National City.

John Edward Drummond Jr., 22, of 9875 Austin rd., S. V., was arrested on Oct. 17 by National City police after several accidents in the South Bay area.

In a criminal complaint filed by the District Attorney's office he is charged with: hitting a northbound vehicle on Highway 101 in National City and knocking it through the dividing fence where it overturned; leaving the scene of the accident; escaping from Chula Vista police officers in the car while they administered a sobriety test to his companion; and hitting two parked cars at 24th and L streets in National City before running into a parked truck and stopping in the middle of the street.

According to police, Drummond stated when taken into custody, "I'm gassed. I've had 26 or 35 beers." Police said that four hours later Drummond could not remember what had happened and said, "I was really smashed, I shouldn't have been driving."

Drummond appeared Friday before Judge Ronald Abernethy.

Mrs. Hitchcock, early in October was given a special award by the Temple Beth Israel Sisterhood, for her outstanding civic work. And more recently, Mrs. Hitchcock was cited by Mayor Dail of San Diego for her good work and was given "the keys to the city."

Valley - Lemon Grove areas.

Deputy Lewis Jones of the S.D. office who was visiting his parents at 2940 Washington st., L.G. said the rear window was shot out of his Ford. Pellet-gun users had accrued a damage total of more than $2,000 the preceding week.

Mrs. Gertrude Couch, 10237 Del Rio rd., S.V. said that shots broke a window in her bedroom last week and this week a shot splintered the rear window of her car parked in her driveway as she stood talking to neighbors. No persons nor vehicles were seen in the street at the time, she said.

The Violette Realty Co., 4610 Avocado blvd., reported that a louvered window was splintered by a shot during the weekend.

NO LOOT LOST AT STAR LUMBER

An attempt to burglarize the Star Lumber Co., 3604 Bancroft dr., S.V. produced no loot for the burglars, Arthur Uecker told the sheriff's department.

He reported that an attempt to get into the building was made last week through a back door. They got the hasp off but apparently nothing was taken.

TAKES PILLS, COLLAPSES

Mrs. William O. Rau of 10433 Elmdale dr., Edgewater, Spring Valley, took 15 sleeping pills and collapsed in her kitchen last week.

Although she was found unconscious by her daughter it was Mrs. Rau who had called the family doctor after she had done the deed. She was taken to Hillside Hospital. Her daughter said her mother was unhappy over family matters.

GENERATOR TAKEN FROM CAR

The generator of his auto was removed from the auto of Jack H. Foster as it stood in the driveway of his home at 7064 Waite dr., Lemon Grove last week. The nuts and bolts which held it in place were carefully placed on top of the carburetor, he told sheriff's men.

GENERATOR TAKEN FROM SCHOOL

A 14-year-old Mt. Miguel student admitted taking a generator from the school grounds last week. The culprit used pliers and a razor blade to cut the machine loose after breaking the housing in which the generator was kept. It had been loaned the school by Pac. Tel. Co. for use in a school play.

Vice Principal Virgil Duea advised sheriff's men that the boy was already facing school suspension. He was released to his parents.

ASKS MORE PROTECTION

William C. Ryan, 522 Worthington, S.V. asked sheriff's men for a heavier patrol of his neighborhood after two petty thefts were perpetrated at his residence. A milk cooler was taken from his porch last week and a soaker hose was taken the week before.

WOMAN ARRESTS HUSBAND AGAIN

Mrs. Theresa Rose Willis of 2712 Sweetwater ave., L.G. made a citizen's arrest on her husband for the second time on the charge of drunk and disturbing the peace. She said that he had been abusive, drinking heavily and belligerent since a buddy bailed him out of jail for the first offense. He was taken to county jail.

Arraignment was held in the San Diego Municipal Court before Judge John Martin, who ordered Lewis held in $10,000 bail with a penalty assessment of $500, and to await the report of the Probation Department before sentencing Nov. 28.

SLIDING DOOR SMASHED

A sliding glass door in the residence of Stanley Dobson, 4045 Paula, Vista La Mesa, was shattered by a stone heaved Friday according to report to the sheriff's department. The cost to replace the door is $50.

PHOTOG MAKING LEWD PHONE CALLS HERE

An attempt to lure two of this area's beautiful girls into posing for nude and lewd photographs, was made Nov. 16, by lewd telephone calls. Both of the girls lived in Spring Valley and are professional models. They are 17 years old.

The person telephoning gave his name to one girl as Robert Burns and to the other girl as Robert Blake. He said he was a commercial photographer, and both girls stated that from his questions, he must have been a professional photographer. After asking them to pose in the nude and receiving refusals, the caller began to use lewd language. The sheriff's department was alerted by the parents of one of the girls who attempted to make a contact without success. He said he had headquarters at the U. S. Grant Hotel.

STONE HEAVERS BUSY

The front windows of the home of Mrs. Margaret M. Wells, 1657 Madera, Lemon Grove, were twice attacked by stones on Nov. 16, according to the owner who contacted the sheriff's department. She charged a 9-year-old boy of the neighborhood as the rock thrower. He admitted to the afternoon rock, but said the one thrown in the morning was done by another boy, a student in the Los Altos Elementary school.

MORE BAD CHECKS

Barbara L. Williams alias Barbara L. Rushing, was charged with passing checks without funds on the Speedee Mart, to the amount of fifty dollars, on Nov. 10 and Nov. 11.

Charles Reed, the manager, told the sheriff's department that the checks were drawn on the Security First National Bank, and were identical with the exception of the one being signed Barbara L. Williams and the other one Barbara L. Rushing. The checks he said were accepted by a new clerk Art Smith.

COLLEGE BOND ELECTION PUT OFF

The Grossmont College Board of Trustees on Monday evening postponed any action on a rescheduling of an election to finance the college building program pending additional reports from individuals and organizations throughout the district. Preponderance of sentiment received by the Board has been to reschedule the election sometime during this school year with the majority being in favor of consolidating with the June Primary when a heavier vote could be anticipated.

Supt. Lewis F. Smith reported that the Whittier School District, only slightly larger than the Grossmont District, recently lost a bond issue for $15 million to finance construction of facilities for 5,000 students. At the present time the Whittier District has no junior college program in operation. Two thousand full time and 2,000 part-time students are attending neighboring junior college districts. For this the Whittier taxpayers are paying full district current operation cost plus a $300 property use fee for each full time student.

Miguel High School and attended San Diego City College. A spring wedding is planned.

Shrine Club To Host 80 Children

The Mt. Helix Shrine club will be host to 80 underprivileged children Thanksgiving at a dinner and party at the El Cajon Elks clubhouse.

President Dudley Winn has named Ed La Camera and Dr. Robert Rosen as co-chairmen of the event. Members of all units of Al Bahr Temple will assist the host club in the festivities.

Entertainment, in addition to turkey, trimmins' and goodies, will include the appearance of Smokey Rogers, Sophia Jackson and Temple Units. Toys will also be distributed.

The Neighborhood House will select the children participants. Buses will pick them up at 10 a.m. and return them at 1 p.m.

All Shrine members are invited to participate. Reservations are not necessary according to Sid Campbell, publicity chairman.

The combination of partying and smoking is a definite fire hazard, says the Allstate Safety Crusade. After a party, empty all ashtrays and check stuffed furniture for smoldering cigarettes or cigars.

LG Community Credited With Success Of Band

"A music-conscious community is largely responsible for the continuing success of the Lemon Grove Junior High school band," Harry Weisgerber, head of the music department there, said last week after another feather even in the band's cap.

The newest feather in the cap of distinction was winning of first place of the Veterans Day Parade on Nov. 11. Before that, the group earned the Marine Corps Perpetual Trophy—a tall, shiny trophy that is almost too heavy to lift—in the Maytime Band Review last spring.

Weisgerber said local backing given the band has made the organization's achievement's possible. The Lemon Grove Music Parents Club, headed currently by Mrs. Betty Ball, has a membership of 170 families.

In winning the Perpetual Trophy, the band was in competition with Class A-4 high schools. Weisgerber said he has rehearsed group to work with this year. Eighty-five students are in the band. Kathy Davis has remained as head majorette.

The group is slated to take part in the San Diego County Music Festival to be presented on March 2. The participation of the Lemon Grove Junior High School band in the November 4 second annual Spring Valley parade gave them additional experience, Weisgerber said, although that event was non-competitive.

Only a minority of the band was graduated last semester and Weisgerber has a well-rehearsed group to work with this year. Eighty-five students are in the band. Kathy Davis has remained as head majorette.

News and Views from Spring Valley

Let's Be Thankful On Thanksgiving

A "Happy Thanksgiving Day" to all you good friends and neighbors; and may the Blessing of Heaven rest upon each and everyone of you.

Thanksgiving Day. I wonder how many of us here in Our Valley (and other places around our nation) are as thankful in our country of plenty as were our Pilgrim forebearers, who had little of the early day essentials of life. Many of us today are worrying about the "shaky" world and fear for our own nation. Somehow or other we fail to realize we still have the greatest nation on the face of this earth and more blessings than any other people. So we should stop and count our blessings, not only at Thanksgiving time but every day of the year.

PARADE ENGENDERS FAVORABLE COMMENT

There still are reports coming in about the fine parade in Spring Valley on Nov. 4. Everyone was delighted with the beauty and uniqueness of the parade. The Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring organization, reports many favorable comments.

The following letter was received by the C of C just recently from Dave Gould of the Rancho del Charro at Vista Calif. Dave was one of the equestrians in the parade. He quotes:

"Gentlemen:

"Congratulations on another splendid parade.

"It went off very smoothly, a tribute to fine organization by all concerned. You had the finest entries and they all did you proud. All the spectators we met had only praise for the excellent performance of all the participants, especially the spectacular band from your home town, the Mt. Miguel High School.

"Thank you for the opportunity to participate, and for the so-unusual trophy. It certainly carried out your theme, NEW HORIZONS. It is a welcome change from the routine trophies generally given—you certainly succeeded in being individual and different, and everyone deserves a great deal of credit for all the work expended on this successful event. "Sincerely Yours, David Gould."

Letters like this make any person, (who had anything to do with the parade) get a deep down glow. It was reported last week that the S.V. float will be in the Mother Goose parade (that was Sunday in El Cajon). Now, it has been reported the float will be in the North Park Toyland parade in early December. Let's all turn out and give Spring Valley a big boost.

ACCIDENT-STRICKEN VALLEYITES BACK ON JOB

I was glad to hear that three of Our Valleyites, who were hurt in accidents recently are "back on the job."

Donald Thorpe, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thorpe of 3030 Central, is back to work at his job with the Dufton Mfg. Co. of El Cajon, after being treated for second and third degree burns he received recently due to gasoline ignition on his hands and arms. It seems Bob was working on the fuel line of his car and failed to disconnect the battery cable which somehow or other sparked, causing the gasoline to ignite. Bob's friends, at whose house he was repairing his car, extinguished the fire and Bob was taken to a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. (Hollis and Anne) Constance, out at 10003 Buena Vista Dr., who were in an auto accident Oct. 23, are around again and doing o.k., I understand. The accident, which involved the Constance pickup truck and a late model Cad was on the Alvarado freeway. The Constances were coming east headed for home, when the Cad stopped dead in front of them, Mrs. Constance said. She received cuts and bruises and was taken to a hospital for x-rays. She said their pickup is equipped with safety belts, but that they were not in use when the accident occurred. She said had the belts been in place that she doubts if she and her husband would have been hurt so bad. She recommends that all cars be equipped with safety belts.

WELCOME, THORPES

"Welcome to Our Valley." This salutation is for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thorpe who have made their home at 3012 Central ave., right next door to their son and his family, the Gene Thorpes of 3030 Central. Walter Thorpe is with the Foster and Kleiser outdoor advertisers. He and his missus are from San Diego.

HAPPY TURKEY

Thursday is the day of the full larder, the full turkey, the full table and the full stomach.

While you're all sitting there together, though the children may be noisy be thankful they're there to make noise. If someone else gets the legs you wanted, be happy the bird didn't go on a diet and there's more to be had. If he doesn't carve right, or she didn't cook it right, be glad you've got someone to yell at.

What I'm getting at is, don't forget the whole purpose of this holiday. Put the power of positive thinking to work, and count your blessings.

S.V. WELFARE IS DISHING OUT

The Spring Valley Welfare sent notices home through all the schools in the area, requesting canned goods for Thanksgiving baskets and most schools came through in a most generous manner. The welfare volunteers will be distributing these baskets to anyone in the area who needs them, so we can all enjoy our holiday knowing our neighbors will not be doing without.

NEW DEVELOPMENT TO BENEFIT COMMUNITY?

The development of Dictionary Hill could well bring Spring Valley out of adolescence, but the trouble is that growing up does not guarantee maturity. This new development will mean added revenues for the area eventually, but in the meantime, there are many questions which need answers.

General obligation bonds will be issued by the La Presa Water District for the bringing of water and sewers up 'The Hill.' Who is going to be under obligation to pay for these bonds, us? How can bonds be issued without the approval of the taxpayers in the water district? If I wanted to put a sprinkling system on my property would the water district sell bonds and let my neighbors pay for them. Our water taxes were recently decreased, mainly by the Otay Water District, and we needed this relief. Would it be asking too much for our water bills and taxes to be brought down to the level of other districts, before new development is taken up.

Where are these sewers going to be connected? The S.V. Sanitation Plant is under a cease and desist order, and even if it weren't, anyone trying to add more connections to this already unsanitary, fly-ridden, polluted mess ought to be horse whipped.

Where will the children from that area be going to school? Certainly not to our already overcrowded schools. There is a big to do going on concerning the price of land for a school which is sorely needed, yet we're asked to help finance this new development.

I believe in the growth of Spring Valley, but first, we must build up the areas already in existence. We need road improvements, traffic lights and stop signs, yet, by knowing the right people an agreement is reached, which ignores all this and puts in new roads.

If it can be shown that this development is going to benefit us then I'm all for it. Until then keep an eye on your tax rates, and your own hand on your wallet.

If you have to remove a dead tree or shrub from your garden, be particular to get every particle of decayed root out of the soil because wherever a tree had died, sour sap or root rot is apt to follow as a result of its decomposition. . this regardless of whether a disease caused the death of the tree or not. Destroy all these root particles definitely and do not, under any circumstances, leave them lying around.

For further safety, when you replace the soil that was taken out with the tree, I suggest intermingling about 2½ pounds of agricultural sulphur in the soil you use for replacement. Water it down well and disinfect it with a copper-ether solution. Permit the area to dry out 10 days or so and then give it another thorough soaking. Thus you will cleanse your soil to a greater depth and create a fine soil for the growing of new plants.

CERTIFICATE ON 990

Accomplished Lemon Grove Actor Appearing In SDSC Production

A Lemon Grove student with recent acting experience in movies, television and the New York stage has been cast in San Diego State's next theatre production, "Oedipus Rex."

He is Cedric Jordan, a former New York Actor's Studio member and now a senior speech arts major at San Diego State. Jordan, a graduate of Grossmont High School, will head a cast and Greek chorus of 41 students.

Jordan resides at 2141 Ensenada, Lemon Grove, with his mother, Mrs. Eleanor Jordan.

The second San Diego State Theatre production of the year, Sophocles' "Oedipus Rex" opens in the campus Little Theatre on Nov. 30. Performances are also scheduled for Dec. 1, 2, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

A masterpiece of dramatic power, the play is under the direction of Dr. William J. Adams, associate professor of speech arts.

Cedric Jordan returned to San Diego State this fall to complete his senior year, postponing a promising career in the theatre.

IN MOVIES

He appeared in the motion pictures: "Splendor in the Grass," "Tiger Among Us," and "Married Too Young."

His television credits include the U.S. Steel Hour's presentation of "The Revolt of Judge Lloyd," "Lamp Unto My Feet," "The Investigation," and "Naked City."

In New York, Jordan performed in Actor's Studio productions, an Off-Broadway presentation of "Death of a Salesman," and understudied the role of Tom Jr. in the Broadway hit, "Sweetbird of Youth."

Although Jordan studied at San Diego State before becoming a professional actor, "Oedipus Rex" will be his first appearance on the Little Theatre stage.

The role is a demanding one with Oedipus on stage during most of the play. The endowments which make Oedipus grand - his impulsive intellect, his passion for truth, his great physical strength, his integrity and his pride - all are used in the play to work out the pattern of his tragic fate.

Tickets are available at $1.25 each, through the college bookstore, JU 2-8383. They may be reserved on performance nights by calling JU 2-4422 after 4:30 p.m.

Hansen To Speak Before Spring Valley Chamber Of Commerce

The regular membership meeting of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 27, at 8 p.m. in the Chamber hall, 9050 Memory Lane, just off Bancroft drive. The meeting is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Guest speaker of the evening will be Fred J. Hansen, local land developer and president of the La Presa County Water District. He will talk about his European trip and his experiences "behind the Iron Curtain."

Bill Zabel, second vice president of the Chamber, who is also membership chairman, announces a membership drive "kick-off" breakfast Saturday of this week, Nov. 25 in the Chamber hall; the time, 7:30 a.m. He said the Chamber goal is 300 new members.

As the regular December meeting date of the Chamber of Commerce falls on Christmas, the meeting will be set ahead to Dec. 18, according to President Chet Smith. At that meeting new members will be welcomed.

AVERAGE INCOME $6,592

SACRAMENTO, October 4—State Controller Alan Cranston today said income reports of State inheritance tax appraisers for the 1960-61 fiscal year show median average net earnings of $6,592 per appraiser.

CIVIL DEFENSE: A Series

HOW TO PROVIDE SAFE FOOD AND WATER

(This newspaper would be interested in hearing about civil defense measures being taken by people in the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area.)

Most of us take for granted the public services that guard our family health. But many of these services would be temporarily knocked out by disaster.

If the local water system is damaged, your household supply may be cut off until repairs can be made. If sewers are broken, it will not be possible to dispose of human wastes by the usual means. Lack of garbage collections will encourage the increase of rats, flies, and other disease-carrying agents. It will be hard for the people who supply you with food and fresh milk to resume their regular services for some time after an attack.

Your family should be prepared to solve its own food, water, and sanitation problems for at least two weeks following a disaster.

PROCEDURE

1. To insure enough safe drinking water and other fluids, you should have on hand the equivalent of seven gallons for each member of your family. That may sound like a lot of fluid to store, but the chances are that you have several quarts of various liquids on hand, such as milk, soft drinks, fruit and vegetable juices, and the juices from water-packed fruits and vegetables. Check how you stand on such supplies before you begin to store additional water. And remember water availability from your hot water tank if it is free of rust and sediment. Home tanks usually have capacities of either 30 or 60 gallons.

2. In addition to juices and other fluids, there are many emergency sources of drinking water in your home which you may not have thought of using. The melted ice cubes from your refrigerator would be one source. So would the tank of your hot water heater. Any clean water supply that has been covered against dust will serve in a disaster—but you should store some drinking water in addition, to be on the safe side. First, however, check your emergency resources against the total needed.

3. Now, to make sure of the total supply, make up the balance of what your family might need by storing fresh drinking water in glass jars or jugs with tight-fitting covers, caps, or stoppers. Water fresh from the tap is safe providing the containers are clean. Pack your containers carefully.

4. You should not hoard large quantities of food under any circumstances—that would be wasteful and foolish. But you should have on hand at all times a normal 2-week supply. You may already have enough on hand. If not, add canned or dried food which does not need refrigeration. Don't forget powdered milk or condensed substitutes for fresh milk, and extra supplies of baby foods.

5. Radioactive matter can make you sick if enough of it gets in your body, but even a cellophane wrapper may protect foor from such contamination if the wrapper itself remains unbroken. Food in your closed refrigerator, deep freeze, or cupboards will be safe, but uncovered food exposed in the open might not be.

After a nuclear attack, wash or wipe clean any food or water container before opening it. Radioactive contamination on cooking or eating utensils is another problem. Such substances cannot be made harmless by boiling—they can only be washed away.

6. Water flush toilets cannot be used, of course, when water service is interrupted. If there were a delay of several days in restoring sewerage service to your neighborhood, you would have to make some temporary toilet provisions for members of your family, especially the children.

Provide a covered container for this purpose. A covered pail, a large cooking vessel, or a small kitchen garbage can with a foot-operated lid can be put to use in an emergency. Almost anything that has a cover will do for this purpose.

7. Emergency disposal arrangements for human wastes, garbage, and rubbish are roughly the same.

Garbage should be drained dry and wrapped in several thicknesses of newspaper before being placed in a covered storage container, to reduce decomposition and resulting odors. Later it may be buried under 12 to 24 inches of dirt. Keep a spade handy fro this purpose.

Rubbish can be burned in open yard areas or left at dumps established by local authorities. Check your emergency disposal arrangements now and make sure your family understands their importance.

PRACTICE

1. Gather your family together and discuss the dangers of dirt and disease which can bring illness or death following disaster.

2. Make sure you know what you are going to do about household sanitation if an emergency occurs, and see that you have on hand the supplies you would need to protect your family health.

3. Work with your neighbors to set up sanitary measures that will protect your area. Disease is no respecter of property lines.

4. For additional details—such as how to purify water and milk—make sure that your family and friends read OCDM handbook, H-1, Emergency Sanitation at Home.

The Golden Text from Psalms (107:21, 22) implored, "Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing."

A challenging call to overcome evil, no matter how subtle, with the power of God will be heard Sunday at all Christian Science church services. "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon.

DRAMATISTS — These are the Casa de Oro Elementary School fifth graders who this past week presented their own play. "The First Thanksgiving." In the picture are Pilgrim girls Karen Knecht, Joyce Doyle, Marilyn Prall and Susan Papike; as Francis, cleaning his musket, is Tom Pogue; and as the Indian is Brian Penry.

Casa De Oro Kids Learn Meaning Of Thanksgiving By Presenting Play

The real meaning of "Thanksgiving" was brought home to Casa de Oro PTA members, teachers and some of the school's pupils last Thursday, when Mrs. Virginia Zysk's fifth graders presented an original play, "The First Thanksgiving."

The basis of the play was an assignment Mrs. Zysk gave to her students after they did some research on the life and hardships of our Pilgrim forebearers. Everyone in the class of 38 turned in his or her story and finally three were chosen; one by Joyce Doyle, one by Marilyn Prall and the other by Kathy Eulitt. An original poem was also used and the poetess, again, was Kathy Eulitt.

The play which was in three acts, one scene told the story of the hardships during the first year at Plymouth, Mass. It told how Governor William Bradford set aside three days of feasting to thank God for the Pilgrims' fine harvest and for the friendship of the neighboring Indians. Finale to the performance was a religious song, "We Gather Together," in which the audience joined in.

Besides the authors and poetess, others in the play were: cast of characters: Kathy Eulett, narrator; Kathy Fondaw as Mrs. Winslow; Joyce Doyle as Mrs. Allerton; Karen Knecht as Mrs. Brewster; Don Yerly as Governor Bradford;

Bobby Vaughn as the town cryer; Pat Foley as Massoit; Charles Grimm as Quadequina; Clare Snyder as Remember; Shirley Hesche as Constance; Lee Ann Clayton as Elizabeth; Marilyn Prall as Humility; Tom Pogue as Francis; Barry Lynn as John; Pat Barney as Bartholomew; Laurie Glynn as Laurie; Janice Tank as Janice; Susan Papike as Suzie, and Brian Penry as Squanto.

The art committee: Marilyn Adams, Preston Crowder, Jeff Dyer, Jerry Edgar, Lisa Hart, Jim Kelley, Ruth Langohr, Cheryl Lloyd, Barry Lynn, Bill Munden, Brian Penry, Jennifer Roberts and Evan Thomas.

Costume committee: Janie Williams, Bonnie Parrot, Janice Tank, Laurie Glynn, Kathy Clark, Jerri Edgar, Patsy Sloane.

Props, Jeff Dyer and Bill Munden; curtains, Tim Bagley; lights, Eddie Lare; piano, John Sigars; auto harp, Cheryl Thatcher; soloist, Marilyn Prall.

The play was such a success that a second presentation was given on Monday of this week.

CHRISTMAS PLAYHOUSE—This is the playhouse that some lucky youngster will get on Christmas Eve. It is being given by the friendly business firms of Lemon Grove. Each time Mom or Pop, or even a youngster goes into one of the L.G. stores a coupon will be given. This coupon is dropped in a box in the store and Santa, himself, will choose the home to bring it to.

The playhouse, designed and constructed by the Massachusetts Avenue Lumber Co., expressly for this purpose, will be on display on the Broadway end of the plaza soon. It will be headquarters for Santa when he comes here December 8 to make daily appearances until Christmas.

Playhouse To Be Given

This is the house that Lucky Lem built.

Lucky Lem is the spirit of the Lemon Grove business district and the playhouse is the spirit of Christmas.

And some lucky Lemon Grove shopper will find the playhouse resting on her lawn on Christmas Eve because it is being delivered by Santa as a gift from the local merchants.

The playhouse and Santa will be attractions in the Lemon Grove business district starting December 8. The playhouse will be installed on the plaza at Broadway between Main and Imperial. Santa will stroll the streets that day giving goodies to nice little girls and boys.

Each business firm will distribute entry blanks and those who would participate in getting the playhouse will sign their name. Santa will draw the name of the playhouse winner on Christmas Eve. It is not necessary to make a purchase to be eligible for the playhouse.

Meanwhile, the downtown section of Lemon Grove is being transformed into a Christmas tree lane with tall silver Christmas trees being installed high on the front of the many stores. Colored lights will glow at night to tell all mothers and dads that there is no time like Christmas and place like Lemon Grove to make Christmas dreams come true.

Local Residents Taking Part In Cancer Survey

More than 450 Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residents are participating in a voluntary national study to determine the possible relationship of human living habits to cancer.

The study is being carried out by the American Cancer Society, and more than 450 volunteers associated with the Society's San Diego County Branch have agreed to work on it for a period of six years.

Chairmen of the epidemiology study in Lemon Grove, where two separate surveys are being conducted, are Mrs. F. Clark Lehew, of 8102 Lincoln st., and Mrs. Ralph E. Nelson, of 1570 Skyline drive. Chairman of the study in Spring Valley is Mrs. Don Ross Jr., of 8935 Campo road.

Annual Boy Scout Pot-luck Dinner To Attract 1,400

Tribute to 766 volunteer Scout leaders and their wives will be the theme of San Diego county's biggest annual potluck dinner, Tues., Nov. 28.

The event is the annual Beaver dinner of the San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America, being staged this year in the Conference building in Balboa Park, San Diego.

Over 1,400 Scouters and friends of scouting are expected for the dinner, which starts at 6:30 p.m., according to Dr. Jim Vernetti of Coronado, event chairman.

Harry Harlan, district commissioner for the Grossmont district, which includes Lemon Grove and Spring Valley said several units from here are planning to participate.

Be on guard against phony classified distress appeals, such as, "divorced, must sell;" "repossessed, take over balance;" freight claims; or unclaimed merchandise. The San Diego Better Business Bureau warns that these distress appeals are often used by illegitimate business and offer no savings to the buyer. Report this fraud to the Bureau by calling BEl mont 3-7711.

Postoffice Tips Speed Delivery Of Xmas Mail

Stressing the need for everyone to cooperate on his 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign, the local postmaster said this week, "Early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting everything delivered before Christmas."

Naturally, the Post Office Department plans to expand its facilities and to provide extra help during the Christmas rush, but in the final analysis, if you'll follow these three simple rules, you can be certain not to disappoint friends and loved ones on Christmas Day - Wrap your Christmas gifts securely - Be sure they are addressed clearly and correctly - and Mail all your gifts and cards early.

The Postmaster added, "I hate to see folks take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Despite careful handling every year, too many packages break open in transit and too often we have to puzzle over names and addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all."

"If you have any article of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmaster warns. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package from. As an extra precaution against loss, the Postmaster advised placing both the return address and the recipients address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

If Christmas stickers or seals are used, put them on the back of your Christmas cards and packages so that they will not conflict with the address on the front. Make sure that correct postage is firmly affixed to each card and package. When mailing gifts, it's a good idea to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label to prevent defacing it in transit. And always be sure, of course, to include the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone and state.

Because the entire Christmas mailing period is primarily a battle against time, "Do it now" is the slogan from here on in. Don't put off your Christmas mailing while you still have ample time because this means that dreaded pile-ups will occur at the Post Office, causing unavoidable slowdowns in deliveries as the holiday approaches.

The Postmaster asks the cooperation of all business firms to delay mailing circulars and catalogs until after December 25th, to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

The Postmaster said the Post Office is most appreciative of the interest and cooperation shown by the mailing public so far, and reminds that all mail going long distances should be sent by December 10th. Christmas packages for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 15, and be sure to mail Christmas cards for nearby destinations at least a week before Christmas.

Culligan In $160,000 Expansion Program Here

Frank Ladwig

Frank Ladwig, 4120 Avoyer pl., La Mesa, has been named general manager and member of the board of the Southland Culligan Products, Inc.

The formation of the corporation by Virgil Stevens is part of the $160,000 expansion program of the Culligan Soft Water Service of 3515 Olive st., Lemon Grove.

The Southland firm is a sales organization of the soft water firm.

The expanded sales organization is being developed simultaneously with a building program which nearly tripled the firms building area. The expansion program will be completed soon after the holidays at which time a gala open house celebration will be held.

Ladwig was recently transferred here from Alabama where he was in charge of sales for a Culligan operation. He was formerly in the engineering department of the utilities firm in Northbrook, Ill. and later became salesmanager of a Culligan outfit in Mt. Prospect, Ill.

The newly developed sales agency is the first attempt ever to give sales service by a single sales group to a combination of Culligan dealers.

The expansion program, when completed, will make the L.G. Culligan outfit the largest and most modern in America, Stevens said.

The Culligan firm has grown from a one-man operation when it was opened in 1950 by Stevens to one of Lemon Grove's largest industries in point of payroll.

The 18 persons who are regularly employed there draw more than $135,000 a year in pay. The firm was started in a shack at the present address with little more than a thousand feet of space. The shack was soon replaced by facilities giving the firm 3,500 feet. The new facility brings the total to 8,500 feet and all of the equipment is automatic.

Stevens said the sales force would eventually fan out to cover the entire county serving as a sales agency for the eight dealerships now in existance.

The firm, a corporation, is family owned by Stevens and his wife, Alice. V. J. Dorman, a L.G. attorney is the secretary of the corporation.

Date of the open house celebration is to be announced.

Grossmont College Tackles Class Schedule Problem

The Grossmont College board of trustees Monday evening gave preliminary consideration to the problem of scheduling the instructional program of the college at Monte Vista High School in order to accommodate increased enrollment with the least disadvantages to the programs of both the high school and the college. President John Hansen indicated that a study of the problems suggested separate times for college and high school operation.

A plan which appears to be favored by the high school and college faculties would schedule the high school program to begin at 7:15 or 7:30 a.m. and terminate in time for the junior college program to begin at 2 p.m., ending at 7:15 p.m. This would enable the college evening classes to begin at 7:30 p.m. ending at 10:30 p.m. The undesirability of afternoon hours for the college operation is apparent, but it was felt that the high school program should be given priority. Each program would have class periods of 50 to 53 minutes in length under this plan. Additional study will be made before final consideration by the board.

Grossmont Union High School District board of trustees turned a deaf ear to a request that school music organizations be permitted to perform at Disneyland in return for free admission and tickets to concessions. The action came at Monday night's board meeting after a lengthy discussion in which previous policy and administrative ruling had been reviewed. A plea was given on behalf of the Grossmont choral group by Mrs. Edward Witek.

In August the board had denied a request that school bands be permitted to perform at pro-football games. In reaching this decision the board stated that while they were sympathetic to the appearances of groups at events of this nature, it was prohibited by Government Code Section 6650. It was suggested that favorable consideration might be given if the code section did not exist, provided, of course, that such appearance did not involve the use of tax funds to assist a private commercial venture. When the board's attention was called to the fact that a number of schools are being invited to Disneyland and are participating in spite of the prohibition, the board took the position that this did not justify a disregard or circumvention of the law. An attempt to remove this prohibition had been made in last session of the legislature, but failed. It was suggested that efforts be continued to seek a change in this legislation.

Governor's Conference Reveals Community Spirit Of Teenagers

One of the most vital accomplishments of the recent Governor's Conference On Youth Leadership attended by two Mt. Miguel students—Laurel Hoye and Ralph Blunt—was to prove that the majority of teenagers today are interested in their communities and are anxious to help in all the areas that concern them, according to a Mt. Miguel spokesman.

The two students will be present at an open meeting of the Miguel PTA board on Mon., Nov. 27 in the teachers' dining room when they will give a report on the meetings and workshops they attended at the two-day conference.

Mrs. Richard Fares, second vice president and membership chairman of the PTA, accompanied Laurel Hoye and Ralph Blunt to the conference. Tom Morgan, representative from Monte Vista High School, also was a member of the group which went to the conference.

The Navy's LSTs (tank landing ships) are named after U.S. counties.

Social Security Question Box

By Dirk Smith, area social security representative

Readers are invited to send questions regarding Social Security to Mr. Smith c/o this paper. Those not used in this column still will be answered.

QUESTION: Can I receive my social security benefits when I have outside income?

ANSWER: If this income is rental income, dividends, interest, pensions, or some other form of unearned income, it will not affect your social security benefits. Only earnings from a job or a business which is over $1,200 a year will affect your benefits. Even if you earn over $1,200 a year, it is possible that you still may be entitled to some of your benefits. You should check with your social security office to find out whether you are entitled to any benefits if your earnings from work are over $1,200 a year.

QUESTION: I am working now and earn $400 a month. I will be 62 on October 30, 1961 and plan to retire at that time. I will have earned more than $1,200 by then. Can I still get any social security benefits for the two remaining months of this year after I retire?

ANSWER: Since you said you plan to retire when you become 62, you can receive benefits for November and December of 1961. Benefits can be paid to you for any month in which you earn wages of less than $160 or spend less than 45 hours in your business, if you are self-employed. If you wish further information about the effect of your earnings on your social security benefits, write to this paper for Booklet No. 23. It is free for the asking.

QUESTION: How old do I have to be to get my social security?

ANSWER: Both men and women may apply for their benefits at age 62. However, if you take your benefits before age 65, it will be reduced and the reduction in most cases will be effective for the rest of your life. There is no age limit at all for disability benefits.

QUESTION: I want to claim my social security benefits but I don't have a birth certificate. Does this mean I will never be able to get social security?

ANSWER: No. Many people don't have birth certificates simply because birth certificates were not required to be made when they were born. There are many documents you can use to prove your age. Some of them are old insurance policies, marriage certificates, birth certificates of your children, church records, military records, etc. If you wish a complete list of proofs that are acceptable, write to this paper and one will be sent to you.

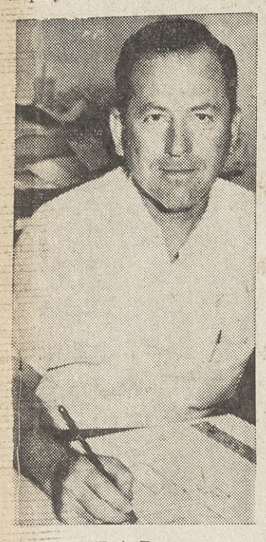
Neon Sign Expert Starts Own Firm In Lemon Grove

A man responsible for some of the major neon signs in this area has started his own firm at 7303 Broadway in Lemon Grove. The man is H. "Pat" Brennan and his company, which will provide around-the-clock service seven days a week, is Associated Neon Displays.

Brennan said his firm will specialize in fabricating and installing plexiglass and neon displays. It will deal also in interior and exterior flourescent lighting. Tailor-made signs, creatively-engineered will be available for all types of businesses.



H. "Pat Brennan

Brennan has been in neon sign "creation" for more than 20 years. Among local signs he did are those at the U. S. National Bank, Spears Ford and L. G. Bowlero.

The Brennan family has resided for 3½ years in Lemon Grove at 7345 Alberdi dr. His wife, Lorraine, is active in church and PTA work here. Two children—Betty Jane, 13 and Robert, 12—are in junior high school and Kevin, 7 attends grammar school.

Brennan said he is a member of both the San Diego and Lemon Grove chambers of commerce.

Miguel Planning Informative Film About The School

In the planning stage at Mt. Miguel is a 30-minute black and white film to advertise three aspects of the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove high school: extracurricular activities (athletics, annual nominating convention, clubs, student government), academic program (counseling, classrooms, courses), and administration.

"The purpose of producing this film is to portray to PTA, parent education meetings, incoming freshmen and any other interested groups, as well as the spirit of Mount Miguel high school, not just students' spirit for their school, but also their enthusiasm about our academic program," emphasized W. F. Ramsey, ASB advisor.

Mr. Ramsey's student government class estimated that the cost of the film would range from $600 to $800. "But," stated Ramsey, "the money has to be raised by the students themselves, and we haven't decided yet how we're going to raise it. However, any donations or offers of assistance will be greatly appreciated."

Believed to be the first in the Grossmont Union High School District, the ASB film should be completed by June, 1962.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION STARTS AT HELIX

Helix High School has formed its first formal Alumni Association, under the direction of Bob Rothstein, senior class president, and Bob Lewis, alumni of the class of '58. The officers are to be elected through mailed ballots sent to the active alumni.

"We hope to contact all alumni, but the mailing addresses of some alumni are not known. We would appreciate this information from interested parties," said Rothstein.
